Partners: none

Additional Information: The official Recycling Coordinator for Ridgefield, as listed on CT DEEP site, is our 1st Selectman, Rudy Marconi; alternate #1 is Ellen Rossini and alternate #2 is Executive Director of HRRRA, Jen Heaton-Jones. The manager that completed the AMRR reports is Ellen Rossini. Data for municipal solid waste totals and recyclables totals is published in meeting minutes from HRRRA. The Town of Ridgefield website links to the HRRRA website. Examinations by industry professionals of municipal waste tells us nearly 40% of the current waste stream is organic materials. Moving the needle on waste reduction per capital will require a significant behavioral shift by residents and large generators (schools, banquet facilities, hospitals) in handling food waste - choosing to compost rather than send to the waste-to-energy plant. In Ridgefield we are experiencing slow progress in this area; but not enough to reach even a 10% waste reduction per capita. We'll keep working at it. While we may not be in the ballpark on the waste reduction, we are very proud of our XX improvement in recycling per capita for the same period. We offer many programs both mandated and non-mandated to help residents recycle right.

Documentation Details: (5 points) under 9.4.1 Choosing a target sector of public school district to put in infrastructure to reduce waste in school cafeterias by collecting food scraps. The Town Recycling Coordinator assisted PTAs from two of 6 elementary schools with setting up "zero waste" programs in their cafeteria - inclusive of waste audits, sourcing transportation and processing for the material and on-site education of the students, teachers and staff. Following the successful launch of both program, the Recycling Coordinator collaborated with the Ridgefield Public Schools' Director of Finance to present to the Ridgefield Board of Education to begin planning rolling out a program for the entire district. Additionally, provided content on the subject via the district's Tiger Talk Podcast.

The programs following the food recovery hierarchy. Connection were facilitated with Food Rescue US and approval to establish a share table under the supervision of lunch aides. The PTAs contracted with a local vendor to haul the material to a commercial composting facility within 20 miles of the school. Future plans include the material to be transported to Town of Ridgefield's municipal composite site. (15 points) third option under 9.4.2. Town of Ridgefield has collected food scraps since 2016. Previously, the material was hauled away to a commercial processing facility to be made into compost. In the Spring, we transported back the finished compost for distribution to the residents. That was until 2022, when Town of Ridgefield completed the construction on the Lee Sawyer Composting Site, a solar powered ASP composting site, right at the Transfer Station. In the 12 months since the first food scraps were taken "up the hill", Ridgefield has diverted more than 25 tons of organics from the municipal solid waste stream. This project has garnered awards from the NE Recycling Coalition, the CCM Municipal Excellence Award and CT Recyclers Coalition Award. Town of Ridgefield has hosted other CT communities on site to see (maybe use the narrative from HRRRA description.) Additional Information: Town of Ridgefield also has a local business Curbside Composting that provides services to both residential and commercial business. This business is collaborating with the Ridgefield Action Committee for the Environment (a town commission) to gain entry into the schools to reignite the zero cafeteria waste program. We are earnest in our belief to reach the state designated 60% diversion goal by 2024, we must grow food waste reduction efforts. We try to keep in mind the US EPA Food Recovery Hierarchy model in our brainstorming for public education actions.

Additional Information: We shared this idea in a meeting with the assigned SustainableCT Fellow and a representative from Western COG. The Executive Director for HRRRA was informed that other member towns may be reaching out to request similar tip cards for their own mass mailings for public education on What's IN, What's OUT. As of 7/7/18 we are aware that Newtown (another SustainableCT town and HRRRA member town) also took the same action to inform residents of the new universal recycling list with the program titled What's IN, What's OUT.
